Sustainable City Plan
celebrating 10 years of progress
CITY OF SANTA MONICA

In September 1994 the City of Santa Monica launched its Sustainable City Program. The program set citywide goals and strategies to reduce resource consumption, waste and pollution generation, safeguard environmental resources and public health, maintain a healthy and diverse economy, and maintain and improve the quality of life for community residents and visitors.

Since 1994 Santa Monica's sustainability efforts have helped the City add parks and trees, increase the number of affordable housing, improve neighborhood quality and safety, cut energy costs while reducing air pollutants, and dramatically reduce the amount of pollution entering Santa Monica Bay.

The program was significantly updated and expanded with the adoption of the Sustainable City Plan in February 2003.
